COMMISSION GIVES FINAL APPROVAL ON 1.4 MILLION BOND ISSUE

Probate Judge makes request for fourth quarter funding

by Marvin Melwain Editor

"I'm here for the first time since I've been an elected official about my budget." These were the words used to preambule Probate Judge Marion B. Brunson's request that the commission subsidize his budget by $16,455.60 to get him through the next four months.

In Monday's meeting of the Coffee County Commission, Brunson told commissioners that when he was preparing his budget last year, he knew that it would not be adequate, but he had worked to "trim" it to the commission's request.

Brunson stated that "We have stretched and stretched, but there's not any place to get anything from." "I'm really surprised that I haven't had to come to you before now," said Brunson.

An itemized list of the items in which monies were needed was as follows: General Office Supplies - $1,775.60; Rental (Recording and Xerox machines) - $9,127.28; Telephone - $2,139.52; and Postage (includes tag mail-outs) - $3,613.20.

Brunson reminded the commission that he has the judge's income - "big bucks" - to the county. A lot of this money will be coming back in," the judge said. "It takes money to make money."

Commissioner Sid Averett said, "A man can't run his office without money!"

"I've never tried to pad my budget. Mine has always been just as possible and I've always stayed within my budget," said Brunson. "I've never been here before for this."

"Next year will be worse than this year," commented Commissioner Chairman Billy Eagerton.

Commissioner Robert Stephens made the motion to grant Brunson's request while commenting "I don't know how we'll get the money, Judge, we may have to take it out of your next year's budget."

The commission agreed to adjust the budget according to Brunson's request.

A short discussion about the effectiveness of the judge's presentation during the judge's presentation.

By paying a $2 fee, county residents may renew their automobile tags via mail. Judge Brunson stated that the response, so far, had not been real good but it was picking up.

David Ventiere appeared before the commission requesting that he, along with Cathy Wilkins and Malcolm Scioniers, be appointed to a committee and/or water authority to secure funding for a water system for the County Line and Scioniersville Communities.

After a brief discussion, the commissioners agreed to Ventiere's request.

Louie Cardinal with the investment securities firm of Howard, Well, Labouesse, Friedrichs, Inc. reported that all the bonds had been sold raising $1,403,000. This was the bond issue approved by the commission in its June 10th meeting for debt consolidation.

The bonds are to be paid off in 7 years at an average interest rate of 6.34%. Cost of issuing the bonds was $22,000. Annual payment on the bonds is not to exceed $260,000 over the next 7 years.

The commissioners signed a resolution authorizing the transaction and the closing of the bond issue on Friday, June 28, 1991.

Chairman Eagerton reported to the commission that the funds collected on the 1/2¢ sales tax has been turned over to the court with a request that it decide the disposition of the funds. The total amount collected was approximately $301,500.00.

Other actions taken by the commission were as follows:

Approved, in accordance with County Administrator Wilson Mobley's request, the payment of bills after each commission meeting.

The commission re-appointed Mr. Johnny Jones to the Department of Revenue's Board of Adjustments.

Approved Randy Tindell's, assistant county engineer, recommendation to accept Woodfield Place Road into the county's road maintenance system. The road connects Candle Brook and Briarwood Drives just off Rucker Blvd., near Enterprise.

Agreed to pay Alabama Power to move 25 power poles located along Rd. 18 and Al Hwy. 134. The estimated cost will be between $12,000 - $13,000.

The commissioners agreed to volunteer to mark off the parking spaces in the parking lots at the Farm Center in New Brockton and the Enterprise Courthouse. No specific date for the undertaking of the project was set. Commissioner Bill Faulk was assigned "Project Coordinating."

It was noted at the close of the meeting, that the next meeting will be at the Elba Courthouse on July 8, 1991 at 9 a.m.

Judge denies Ziglar bond

by Marvin Melwain Editor

In a 12 page court order filed in the circuit clerk's office in Elba Monday, June 24, 1991, Circuit Judge John B. Crawley once again denied Streeter Owen Ziglar bond.

On June 6, 1991, Ziglar, 55, who was originally charged with murder in the shotgun slaying of Edward Kelley, 56, of Elba, was found guilty on the lesser charge of manslaughter.

The murder took place on the night of Kelley's murder.

Ziglar was sentenced to serve twenty years at hard labor in the penitentiary by Judge Crawley on June 11, 1991. At the time of the sentencing, Ziglar's defense attorney, Jackson W. Stokes, gave an oral notice of appeal to the verdict. Also, a request for bail was made which was denied by Judge Crawley.

Judge Crawley's denial of bail was appealed and a hearing date was set.

A bond hearing was held in Elba Wednesday, June 19th, in which Ziglar's newly court appointed attorneys, Stafford Pittman and Roger Brannon, argued that Ziglar was entitled to bond since his sentence was less than twenty years. Their contention was that the court was denying him, Ziglar, of his secure rights under the Alabama Constitution.

Pittman and Brannon's argument was that Ziglar was entitled to be free on bond until his appeal of the lower court's verdict is acted on by a higher court.

In the judge's order of bond denial and also judgement and sentencing it was stated: "This court has a strong and abiding belief that this defendant (Ziglar), if released, poses a real and present danger of harm to Doug Taylor and Merlene Kelley."

During the trial, testimony was offered which verified that Ziglar went to the home of Doug Taylor armed with a 12ga. shotgun on the night of Kelley's murder.

Also, Merlene, wife of Edward Kelley, testified that Ziglar had threatened to kill her and Edward if Donna Ziglar's name was used in their divorce proceedings. Edward Kelley and Donna Ziglar, according to testimony in court, had been having an "affair" for several years.

On Tuesday, Owen Ziglar was transported to Kibby Prison in Montgomery, Alabama where he will either remain or be processed to another state facility pending action on his appeals.

Elba City Council approves club pool table ordinance

by Ferrin Cox Publisher

The Elba City Council met Monday evening without Mayor Fred Moore, who was absent due to a death in his family.

The only action taken by the council was to approve an ordinance allowing pool tables in private clubs owned by minors.

State and city laws have long forbidden minors and pool tables to occupy the same facility. However state law does not prohibit a private club from having a provision allowing private clubs, churches, etc. to have pool tables available to minors.

Monday night the Elba City Council unanimously approved a change in the local laws to "mirror" the state laws and allow private teen clubs to have pool tables. The action was taken at the request of Mr. Forde Dean who plans to open a teen club with video games and pool tables.

Council member Bill Brunson, who had researched the issue, told fellow council members there were still provisions in the law which allow the city police to prevent abuse of this provision.

Police Chief Freddie Hanchey told the council that 156 complaints including three traffic accidents, have been answered by the police in the past two weeks. Police have issued 47 traffic citations as well as making 12 criminal arrests.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Elba continues a steady rebound from the disaster of 1990. The recent opening of a new dress shop is one of several new businesses which speak loud and clear for the future of Elba. Several weeks ago Becky Hayes opened her long-dreamed-of antique shop. This type business will do more than supply needed staples and add to the sales tax base. It is a quality operation which will bring to Elba people who are seeking something they can't find anywhere else... carefully selected antiques. We hope Elba citizens will support these and other new ventures by speaking well of them to friends and relatives who live away from the area.

County Commissioner Robert Stephens politely informed us this week of the logic behind appealing the sales tax ruling all the way to the Supreme Court. First he noted the cost didn't come from county funds... the insurance fund paid the bill. Secondly, this is the one we readily accept as good logic, at least 30 other counties wanted a clear ruling on this precedent setting court decision before they proceeded with new or revised taxes. We bow to those better informed than us and agree to the logic of carrying the matter all the way to the top.

Now the above issue has created a real problem... what does the county commission do with the quarter of a million already collected on the sales tax. It is impossible (and impracticable) to find all those who paid in the additional tax, check their proofs of purchase and issue them checks. Those who successfully fought the tax would have a cat-in-the-hat thought of going ahead and using the collected funds on the jail as originally planned. Therefore we suggest the money be divided between the two county hospitals for use in indigent care of Coffee County citizens. The hospitals would be told the exact same rules apply as with present indigent care patients (that is so no bankers, car artist or newspaper publishers would try to get free health care). The hospitals would get the money over two or three years to better serve the citizens of this county.

There is apparently a strong move afoot to set up a national health plan based on the current system in Canada. We can't really pass judgment on the matter, cause we don't really know how it works in Canada, however we are keenly aware of doctors leaving their homeland to our north BECAUSE of what they described as a socialized medical program with many problems. We admit there are bad problems with getting health care to all of us in America who just can't afford the runaway cost of hospitals and/or insurance. However we are also aware of how government programs - even those with the most noble goals - can fast eat up much more money than the planners admitted it would cost. In other words, can we afford adequate medical services for everyone? The variable in that question is the word adequate. Making additional services available from the government seems to make additional services part of the minimum "needed" program and on and on and on.

We fight and die for democracy but we then turn around and support more and more of a system which has been a complete failure in Russia and other Communist countries... socialism. We do it while being told all this is better for "the people". Ha!

Another child died last weekend from an accidental gunshot wound. It seems a three year old in Philadelphia found a pistol under the sofa and accidentally shot his older brother. The gun was there because their dad apparently postponed cleaning it and stuck it under the sofa "because he's tired". With all our licensing boards in America, we still ain't figured out how to limit children to parents who are qualified to raise them.

All the current speculation about the airpower we used against Iraq being enough to have won in Vietnam is just that... speculation. While we didn't like the way the politicians ran the war in Vietnam we think the speculators are now comparing apples with oranges. The enemy in Vietnam was apparently more dedicated to the cause than were those in the recent Gulf war and that changes the whole picture.

Sixty-eight cars hit the track in racing at SAMS

The South Alabama Motor Speedway was the place to be once again Saturday night as 68 of the top drivers in south Alabama competed in five classes for the coveted checkered flag.

In the PURE STOCK feature Enterprise's Mike Hussey claimed the win, edging out Opp's Darren Meek and Jimmy Neece.

In the SUPER STOCK feature Kinston's Lamar Hudson gave the home crowd plenty to cheer about as he took the checkered flag ahead of Gary Davis, also of Kinston, and Opp's Joey Morrow.

The exciting SCRAMBLER class feature was won by Lavern's Royce Watson, who finished ahead of Opp's Randy Richburg and Enterprise's Junior Kilpatrick, while in the MINI-SCRAMBLER feature it was Tim Driscoll taking the checkered flag ahead of Jerry Flowers.

Trio of veteran pitchers anchor hopes of Elba 14-15 Babe Ruth All-Star squad

The Elba 14-15 Babe Ruth All-Stars are hard at work getting ready for their July 5th date in the District

2. Tournament and Coach Dewayne Hodge reported this week that the team is taking shape and should be ready to play by the time the tourney rolls around.

"We gave the players a little time off after the regular season ended," said Hodge, but we're working hard now and looking like a team. We have some players that have been all-stars for several years and they will have to provide leadership for us if we are going to be successful at the tourney."

"We'll practice during the July 4th holiday week and hopefully be ready to win some games by the time the tourney starts," added Hodge. "We've got some good kids and if they play well we should be okay."

The All-Stars will be led at the bat by the trio of Cory Driggers, Michael Grantham and Keith Grantham, all fifteen year-olds that are all-star squads for the third straight season.

Driggers batted .500 during the regular season with 3 doubles and 6 rbi's, while Michael Grantham batted .463 with 7 doubles and 15 rbi's and Keith Grantham batted .429 with 2 doubles and 7 rbi's.

Other all-stars swinging hot bats during the regular season were Chris Kelley (.400), Chris Hodge (.355), Perry Sinton (.321) and Ernest Baker (.292), Jason Holley (.275) and Tim Tillis (.245).

Pitching is the key to any team and the all-stars appear to be solid with a five-man rotation.

Keith Grantham was the work horse in the league during the season as he tossed 46 innings, allowing 34 hits and 21 earned runs, while striking out 51 batters.

Cory Driggers pitched 28 innings during the year and allowed 18 hits, only 10 earned runs and fanned 33 batters, while Michael Grantham tossed 25 innings, allowing 18 hits and 12 earned runs and striking out 42 batters.

The Athletics won the league title and have two pitchers on the staff in Kevin Boswell and Chris Hodge. Boswell pitched 26 innings during the season and allowed 18 hits and 14 earned runs, with 19 strikeouts, while Hodge tossed 22 innings, and allowed 19 hits, 10 earned runs and fanned 29 batters.

The Elba All-Stars will begin tournament play on Friday, July 5, at 6:00 against Opp, at Johnson Park, in Andalusia, and will continue Saturday at 6:00, if they win the opener, or 8:00, if they fall in the opening round of the tourney.

The tournament will also host games on Sunday and Monday.

To watch or not to watch, that is the question! When I manage to get a little time off I like to sit back in my recliner and watch TV. This time of the year there are always several baseball games on the tube, and since Melissa has started playing softball, she has become a baseball fan and will sit and watch with me. Melanie doesn't appreciate the wide world of sports; however, she starts yelling "Not that!" whenever a game is on. We do let her watch what she wants, at least a little, but the TV is usually tuned in on a ballgame. Mom? She gave up a long time ago...she just goes to bed and reads!

YOUTH ALL-STAR TEAMS APPEAR READY TO WIN

This time of the year is best called "All-Star Time" around Elba as no less than six youth All-Star teams from the baseball and softball leagues are hard at work getting ready for sub-district and district tournaments that will begin next week and not wind down until the middle of July. The Elba teams may not bring home all the trophies, but they all appear ready to play and here is a quick look at what to expect:

**DIXIE MINOR BASEBALL - Elba has sponsored a Dixie Minor League for only two years and it has experienced some growing pains; however, the league was chosen last week to host this year's District Tournament and the tourney should help the league grow into something solid in the Dixie Minor and Dixie Youth Leagues, and if they can find some pitching, they could be the surprise team of the tourney.

**DIXIE YOUTH BASEBALL - Many feel that this year's All-Stars aren't as good as those in years past, but I've watched this league closely throughout the season and disagree. The All-Stars have quality pitchers in D'Undray Peterson, Roscoe Coleman, Jody Johnson, Bruce Cole and Jamie Holley, and have better than average hitting. If the pitching comes through, this bunch could make a lot of noise.

**BABE RUTH BASEBALL 13'S - The 13-year-old All-Stars have been the players to watch ever since they entered Dixie Youth, but this bunch has yet to accomplish the great deeds expected of them. The team appears loaded with pitchers like Che Vaughan, Jason Smith, Todd Grantham, Chris Hudson, Rudy Free and Undray Chism and should knock the cover off the ball. That contention should certainly spell success, and maybe this will be the year this bunch finally pulls it off.

**BABE RUTH BASEBALL 14-15'S - This batch of All-Stars may have the best Babe Ruth pitching staff in many years, led by Keith Grantham, Cory Driggers and Michael Grantham, but many fans feel like it will be a down year for the older guys. I've looked down the roster and am impressed with just about everyone on the team. This could be the surprise group of the All-Star season.

**GIRLS SOFTBALL 12 & UNDER - This girls are hosting the tournament, and with that advantage, could have a shot at winning some games. The girls haven't played softball as long as the guys and their lack of tournament experience will hurt; however, if this bunch hits like it can...the runs could pile up.

**GIRLS SOFTBALL 16 & UNDER - This group has been working nightly trying to settle on a fifteen player roster and viewing from the late practices, it has gotten better and better. The team is dotted with players from the high school team and several girls who just decided to give it a shot, but don't count them out...they have a lot of talent.

A NOISY, BUT FUN SATURDAY AT THE RACES

I went to the South Alabama Motor Speedway last Saturday night for the weekly stockcar races and was shocked at both the size of the crowd and the large number of cars participating in the various classes. The grandstands were packed when I arrived and so was the pit, where almost 70 cars were sitting being readied for the night's races.

The heat races brought out excitement in every class, especially in the Scramblers, where two drivers ended up upside down and brought out the wreckers. If you like spills and spinouts, you would have been happy, and if you like good, exciting racing, you would have been thrilled.

If you haven't been to the races, go on down and see what you've been missing.

SHOW SUPPORT THIS WEEK AT GIRLS TOURNNEY

I hope that everyone who has a child in baseball and softball, and every one else who doesn't, will go out to Hawkins-Williams Park Saturday and watch some of the action in the District 12 and Under Girls Softball Tournament. You don't have to stay all day...just come and watch!

The 11:00 games will have Eu-faula meeting the winner of the Enterprise-Andalusia game on Field 1; Dothan National tangling with the winner of the Dothan American-Abbeville contest on Field 3 and a losers game on Field 2.

The tournament will continue with three games at 12:00, with all games being in the losers bracket, while at 1:00 the action will shift to two fields and continue on two fields through the 4:00 games. The final games will be held on Field 2, only.

"We are excited about hosting the tournament," stated Elba Recreation Director Ricky Mularz, "and hope that Elba softball fans will come out and show their support. This is the first time Elba has ever hosted a District tournament in A.R.P.A. and we want to show everyone that we support our youth and have one of the finest recreation facilities in the entire state."

The Dothan teams have dominated play in recent years," said Mularz, "and have placed first and second three straight years; however, the softball programs for girls have grown across the district and I expect a very competitive squad."

The Elba All-Stars are coached by Carol Laney and are expected to have a competitive squad. "We have the best girls in the league on the team and feel like we have a shot at winning some games," said Laney. "Playing at home will help the girls get over any nervousness and I am confident that we will play well. We have been practicing hard getting ready and the girls and coaches are all looking forward to Saturday."

Admission to the tournament will be $1 per person.

Sixty-eight cars hit the track in racing at SAMS

The South Alabama Motor Speedway was the place to be once again Saturday night as 68 of the top drivers in south Alabama competed in five classes for the coveted checkered flag.

In the PURE STOCK feature Enterprise's Mike Hussey claimed the win, edging out Opp's Darren Meek and Jimmy Morrow.

In the SUPER STOCK feature Kinston's Lamar Hudson gave the home crowd plenty to cheer about as he took the checkered flag ahead of Gary Davis, also of Kinston, and Opp's Joey Morrow.

The LATE MODEL feature winner was Andy Schuler, of DeFuniak Springs, Florida, followed across the finish line by Enterprise's Nate Davis and Dothan's Wayne Newton.

The exciting SCRAMBLER class feature was won by Laverne's Royce Watson, who finished ahead of Opp's Randy Richburg and Enterprise's Junior Kilpatrick, while in the MINI-SCRAMBLER feature it was Tim Driscoll taking the checkered flag ahead of Jerry Flowers.

Trio of veteran pitchers anchor hopes of Elba 14-15 Babe Ruth All-Star squad

The Elba 13-15 Babe Ruth All-Stars are hard at work getting ready for their July 5th date in the District

2 Tournament and Coach Dewayne Hodge reported this week that the team is taking shape and should be ready to play by the time the tourney rolls around.

"We gave the players a little time off after the regular season ended," said Hodge, "but we're working hard now and looking like a team. We have some players that have been all-stars for several years and they will have to provide leadership for us if we are going to be successful at the tourney."

"Well practice during the July 4th holiday week and hopefully be ready to win some games by the time the tourney starts," added Hodge. "We've got some good kids and if they play well we should be okay."

The All-Stars will be led at the bat by the trio of Cory Driggers, Michael Grantham and Keith Grantham, all fifteen year-olds that are on all-star squads for the third straight season.

Driggers batted .500 during the regular season with 3 doubles and 6 RBIs, while Michael Grantham batted .463 with 7 doubles and 15 RBIs and Keith Grantham batted .429 with 2 doubles and 7 RBIs.

Other all-stars swinging hot bats during the regular season were Chris Kelley (.400), Chris Hodge (.353), Perry Stinson (.321) and Ernest Baker (.292), Jason Holley (.275) and Tim Tillis (.243).

Pitching is the key to any team and the all-stars appear to be solid with a five-man rotation.

Keith Grantham was the workhorse in the league during the season as he tossed 46 innings, allowing 34 hits and 21 earned runs, while striking out 51 batters.

Cory Driggers pitched 28 innings during the year and allowed 18 hits and 10 earned runs and fanned 33 batters, while Michael Grantham tossed 25 innings, allowing 18 hits and 12 earned runs and striking out 42 batters.

The Athletics won the league title and have two pitchers on the staff in Kevin Boswell and Chris Hodge. Boswell pitched 26 innings during the season and allowed 18 hits and 14 earned runs, with 19 strikeouts, while Hodge tossed 22 innings, and allowed 19 hits, 10 earned runs and fanned 29 batters.

The Elba All-Stars will begin tournament play on Friday, July 5, at 6:00 against Opp, at Johnson Park, in Andalusia, and will continue Saturday at 6:00, if they win the opener, or 8:00, if they fall in the opening round of the tourney.

The tournament will also host games on Sunday and Monday.

Girls All-Star tourney set for Saturday in Elba

A total of twelve (12) girls softball teams from across south Alabama will converge at Elba's Hawkins-Williams Park on Saturday, June 29, for the 1991 Alabama Recreation and Parks Association, District 8, Girls 12 and Under Softball Tournament.

The double-elimination tournament will be held at the Hawkins-Williams Park softball complex and will begin at 9:00 a.m. and continue throughout the day, with the championship game scheduled for 6:00 p.m. The tourney will begin at 9:00, with three games on tap. On Field 1, Opp will challenge Geneva, while on Field 2 it will be Troy meeting Daleville, and on Field 3 Enterprise will meet Andalusia.

The 11:00 games will again be played, with Field 3 hosting the Dothan American-Abbeville clash, while on Field 1 Elba will meet the winner of the Opp-Geneva battle, and over on Field 2, it will be Ozark meeting the winner of the Troy-Daleville clash.

The 1:00 games will have Eufula meeting the winner of the Enterprise-Andalusia game on Field 1; Dothan National, angling with the winner of the Dothan American-Abbeville contest on Field 3 and a losers game on Field 2.

The tournament will continue with three games at 12:00, with all games being in the losers bracket, while at 1:00 the action will shift to two fields and continue on two fields through the 4:00 games. The final games will be held on Field 2, only.

"We are excited about hosting the tournament," stated Elba Recreation Director Ricky Mularz, "and hope that Elba softball fans will come out and show their support. This is the first time Elba has ever hosted a District tournament in A.R.P.A. and we want to show everyone that we support our youth and have one of the finest recreation facilities in the entire state."

"The Dothan teams have dominated play in recent years," said Mularz, "and have placed first and second three straight years; however, the softball programs for girls have grown across the district and I expect a very competitive tournament."

The Elba All-Stars are coached by Carol Laney and are expected to have a competitive squad. "We have the best girls in the league on the team and feel like we have a shot at winning some games," said Laney. "Playing at home will help the girls get over any nervousness and I am confident that we will play well. We have been practicing hard getting ready and the girls and coaches are all looking forward to Saturday."

Admission to the tournament will be $1 per person.
